

PETER & THE WOLF

NARRATOR 1

Early one morning young Peter opened the garden gate, and went out into the big green meadow.

NARRATOR 2

High up in a tree sat a little bird, one of Peter's friends. 'Everything is quiet and still,' chirps the little bird. 'Everything is quiet and still.'

NARRATOR 3

Following behind Peter, and waddling from side to side, came a duck. She was very glad that Peter hadn't shut the garden gate, and decided to take a bath in the deep pond in the meadow.

NARRATOR 1

When he saw the duck, the little bird flew down onto the grass, sat beside the duck, and began to shrug his shoulders. 'What sort of a bird are you,' he said, 'when you can't even fly!' To which the duck retorted, 'What sort of a bird are you if you can't even swim!' And with a big splash, she flopped into the pond.

NARRATOR 2

They argued for a long time, while the duck swam around the pond, and the little bird hopped along the bank.

NARRATOR 3

Then Peter had a sudden fright. Creeping stealthily towards them, through the grass, was a cat.

NARRATOR 1

The cat was thinking: 'So the bird is busy with his quarrel, eh? I'll soon catch him!' And without a sound, she crept up to him on her velvet paws.

NARRATOR 2

'Watch out!' shouted Peter, and in a flash the little bird flew up into the tree.
